Rancho Santa Fe, CA 3/9/2022. Devonfield Publishing is excited to announce the award-winning, best-selling novel Britfield & the Lost Crown will become a Theatrical Play, adapted specifically for elementary and middle schools across the nation and globally. The Fall 2022 premiere is scheduled at a private school in Mission Viejo, California, along with other theater venues throughout San Diego. In January 2023, the adaptation will be available to over 100,000 elementary and middle schools (United States) and to worldwide distribution. Coordinating with a professional theater director, set designer, music composer, and script writer, the Britfield play will eventually become a Broadway musical (2025).

Utilizing music, sound effects, and digital pictures, the theatrical production will feel like a real-life adventure. With creative set designs, including the hot air balloon and multiple locations, the fast-paced story provides an amazing family experience, offering many acting roles and a turnkey process to produce.

With the movie release of Britfield & the Lost Crown (fall 2023/spring 2024), the theatrical play will complement the live-action motion picture and provide students an exciting, uplifting story to perform during their school years. One of the most awarded books in fiction, the Britfield series is transforming literature and education while bringing encouragement to children and families worldwide. Britfield & the Return of the Prince launches August 2022.
